

Guests order for themselves. The kitchen sees it right away.

An ordering system for eateries. Guests scan the QR at the table, pick their food, and the order reaches the kitchen.

Ask on WhatsApp

Heard any of these before?

Is my order ready yet?

I didn't ask for extra sambal!

How much is the total?

With Foody, guests see the status and the total themselves. You keep cooking.

From the table to the kitchen

Scan

Guests scan the QR at the table. The table number is already filled in.

Order

Pick food and extras, send it. Pay at the counter or by QR transfer.

Cook

The order arrives on your screen with a chime. One button for each stage.

Serve

Guests watch the status until the food is ready.

What your guests see

All on their phone, with no app to install.

A menu with pictures

Categories, search and a photo for every dish. Sold-out dishes are marked.

A QR code for every table

The link carries the table number, so nobody has to type it.

Pick the extras

Fried egg, extra sambal, more chicken. You set the price of each.

A clear cart

The total updates as you go. Add, reduce or remove before sending.

Dine in or takeaway

Only free tables are offered. There is a note for the kitchen too.

Pay at the counter or by QR

Transfer to your shop's QR, upload the proof, and your staff confirm it.

A status that updates itself

Received, confirmed, preparing, ready. The page refreshes on its own.

Order history

Register once. Past orders and receipts live in the guest's account.

What you and your staff run

Tap any picture to enlarge it.

Today at a glance

Orders, sales, the average order and your busiest hours.
Refreshes every 15 seconds.

Orders arrive with a chime

New orders sound an alert and can pop up as a browser notification. One button each to confirm, prepare and mark ready.
